ILFORD SFX 200 Competition 2007 is open to all amateur photographers and is a competition to demonstrate the creative usage of ILFORD SFX 200 film.

ILFORD SFX 200 is a unique ISO 200/24° black and white film that offers the creative photographer opportunities not available with conventional black and white films. ILFORD SFX 200 has an advanced emulsion with extended red sensitivity which allows the use of filters ranging from yellow to deep red. This combination will produce images with dramatic and unusual tonal reproduction.

When used with a red filter on the camera lens, blue skies becomes almost black and most vegetation virtually white. Yellow, orange and light red filters will produce images of equal impact and appeal.
